The employer is responsible for ensuring contributions are timely, within Internal Revenue Service and AGFinancial 403(b) Retirement Plan/409A Deferred Compensation Plan ("Plan") rules, and in accordance with the employer's adoption agreement. See the AGFinancial Retirement Contribution Acceptance Policy at agfinancial.org/acceptance. Elective deferrals are made pursuant to a written payroll deduction agreement. The Internal Revenue Service and Plan rules restrict when amounts contributed to retirement accounts may be distributed. Alternate account numbers are available upon request. Contributions may be submitted online at secure.agfinancial.org.

Make checks payable to MBA and mail to:

PO Box 2515
Springfield, MO 65801-2513

¹ These contributions must be made by the employer. AG credentialed ministers may contribute on a personal check if they receive a 1099-NEC for ministry related income or work as a minister for a non-AG employer.

² Traditional after-tax contributions may be made by employer or employee when approved by the employer.

³ These contributions must be made by the employer. Employee contributions must be declared by December 31 of the prior tax year.
